

Degree Programs

Bachelor Degree Programs

Business Administration
Bachelor Degree

Computer Science Bachelor
Degree

Management Information
Systems Bachelor Degree

Health Administration
Bachelor Degree

Masters Degree Programs

Master of Business Administration Degree

Computer Science Masters
Degree

Management Information
Systems Masters Degree

Health Administration
Masters Degree

Doctorate Degree Programs

Doctorate of Business Administration Degree

Welcome to Warren National University

Warren National University contributes to the educational, economic, and social advancement of mid-career adults through outstanding programs leading to bachelor, master, and doctoral degrees.

Students are the highest priority at Warren National University. Warren National faculty and staff utilize innovative applications of Internet-based technology to serve and provide valuable learning experiences that develop both general education and work-related knowledge. Our dedication is demonstrated through the quality and integrity of our academic materials, as well as the flexibility of our programs to meet the needs of mid-career adults.

The University is committed to maintaining its diverse student body, faculty and staff. To that end, we foster a disciplined, purposeful, open, just and caring community and pledge ourselves to sustain an environment of mutual support and respect, and freedom from bias for all who work and study here.

NOTICE: Last Date of Instruction March 31, 2009

Warren National University receives its licensure through the Wyoming State Department of Education, under W.S. 21-2-401 through 21-2-407. Such oversight requires the University to meet the standards as indicated within Article 4: Private School Licensing

This is a time of economic challenge for organizations both large and small. Every industry faces change brought on by new and unprecedented economic factors. Organizations that provide services to consumers are experiencing the impact of this economic downturn more and more each day. Warren National University is proud of our long history as a Wyoming private post-secondary institution providing adult learners nationwide with affordable online degree programs.

Warren National initiated an application for accreditation through the Higher Learning Commission of the NCA (HLC) in June, 2005. In December, 2007 the University was granted eligibility status from the HLC which lead to the scheduling of an onsite visit. The HLC onsite visit was held in October, 2008. On December 15, 2008 WNU was informed that it did not receive the peer review team's recommendation for candidacy.

Warren National's plans to earn affiliated status with the HLC were adversely impacted by the limitations of a tightening credit market and made more difficult by the increased costs of daily operation. Wyoming law requires that all private post-secondary degree granting institutions either obtain accreditation or remain a candidate for accreditation or otherwise in the process for accreditation to retain its degree granting authority. Effective January 22, 2009 Warren National University is no longer as applicant for accreditation. Warren National University is therefore required by Wyoming law to cease operation.

The University formally solicited the Wyoming Department of Education for the opportunity to support our students through an extended teach-out period. On January 15, 2009 WNU received a letter from the Wyoming Department of Education informing the University that "Wyoming law does not provide the Department the necessary authority to grant the request for a 'teach-out' period". On January 27, 2009 the University received a letter from the Wyoming Department of Education notifying that the registration of Warren National University was revoked. Warren National University is initiating an appeal of this decision. The degree granting authority for WNU is preserved while the appeal is being heard by the Wyoming Department of Education. Without the degree granting authority of the State of Wyoming, WNU cannot provide educational services to our students.

The dedicated members of the faculty, staff, and administration of Warren National University are saddened to announce that the last day of instruction for Warren National University will be March 31, 2009.

No academic work will be accepted after the last day of instruction. However, those students who complete their academic program requirements by the last day of instruction will be eligible to graduate.

Transcripts WILL continue to be available to alumni and former students of the University after March, 2009. Preston University has agreed to act as the registrar of record for Warren National University. This web address will remain active as a means to direct alumni and former students to transcripting and other University registrar services.

Active students have been sent notification by Warren National University informing them of the opportunity to transfer to Preston University. More information on Preston University can be found at www.preston.edu
